The Floor Standing Digital Hand Sanitiser Dispenser is a free standing hygiene station designed for commercial use 24-7 in high-traffic and busy locations.

Marketing messages and COVID-19 related information and instructions can be displayed on the 22inch full-colour display screen with sound that can be played via the integrated speakers.

Ideal for use in locations where hygiene is key and handwashing facilities are not available. The automatic dispensing stand dispenses a measured dose of anti-bacterial gel or foam automatically when a hand is placed underneath the unit. The dispensing valve is non-drip, non-spray, and non-clog.

A removable drip tray is included to catch any stray drips can be regularly cleaned. It features a level indicator so you can easily see when the sanitiser is running low and can be refilled quickly and hassle-free.

Complete with a 1-year free subscription to the user-friendly online content management software makes it possible to remotely control the content that is displayed. Different media can be shown such as images, videos, web pages and can also display social media feeds, scrolling text and RSS feeds for the latest news and updates surrounding Coronavirus.

The hands-free hygiene stand has been designed so that minimal contact is required once it is installed. No operational buttons or controls are on the display itself. You can set automated on/off timer so there is no need to manage it manually after installation.

If your internet connection goes offline, you can continue your display by copying your images, videos, and marketing messages onto a USB stick which will play in a continuous loop.
